WHISKY CAUSED THE INDIAN TROUBLE.

Eastern papers say the present Indian outbreak in Minnesota is traceable directly to whisky. The Pillager Indians, who are on the warpath, are a branch of the Chippewa tribe. Their reservation is in Cass county, Minnesota, west of Duluth. They dress like white men, cultivate the soil and love whisky. They have been carrying on a contraband traffic in "firewater" and have given the authorities much trouble. A number of the ringleaders in this traffic were arrested, convicted of selling whisky without license and sentenced to terms of imprisonment of from thirty to ninety days. One of the chiefs engaged in the whisky traffic eluded arrest for a while, but was finally caught. While the prisoners were being taken to Duluth they were rescued by Indian friends, who took them to Bear Island in Leech lake, and defied the civil officers. An attempt on the part of the Federal officers, assisted by the military, led to the killing of Major Wilkinson and several men of his command, and caused a reign of terror in Cass county, Minnesota.

It is not charged that the Indians manufactured the whisky, therefore they must have procured it from the whites. Now, it is held to be the duty of the Federal officers to hunt down the whites and punish them, as they are primarily to blame for all the trouble.

It is said, too, that white men were encroaching upon the Indian reservation and cutting timber. That aggravated the Indians, and, no doubt, incited them to attack the troops, whom they suspected of aiding the trespassers upon the reservation.

An Indian under the influence of liquor is not a reasonable being. He does not manufacture whisky and therefore must get it from those who do. As the penalty for selling whisky to Indians is severe, if the Federal authorities in Minnesota punished those who violate the law as they do in Nevada, there would be less trouble between the red men and palefaces in that State.

CHALLENGE TO CHAIRMAN COLCORD.

The following appears in the Carson Appeal:

CARSON, Oct. 8, 1898.
To R. K. Colcord, Ex-Governor of the State of Nevada, Chairman of the Republican Committee on Platform and Resolutions and candidate for long term Regent of the State University.

"Sir:—I find in your platform the following resolution:

"Resolved that we denounce the mismanagement of the present State administration of the State institutions, namely the Orphans Home and Hospital for Mental Diseases, and we hereby censure the action of the Governor for his open hostility to our State University."

If these charges be true they must be susceptible of proof. You, having been Governor of this State for the term of four years immediately preceding the present administration, are doubtless better qualified to furnish such proofs, if such exist, than any other man in your party.

In order that the taxpayers of this State may be placed in the possession of such proof, if it exists, I hereby challenge you to meet me with such proof in public discussion of said charges at any time or place you may name during the present month. You to give me two days notice of such time and place. I on my part offer to prove in such discussion the utter falsity of each and every one of said charges and furthermore I agree to pay all of the necessary expenses of the meeting.

REINHOLD SADLER.
Silver party nominee for Governor.
GIVES THE DEAL AWAY.

The Elko Independent, heretofore the staunchest Democratic paper in Elko county, has gone over to the enemy, and is now openly supporting the Silver party ticket.—Times-Review.

It has been charged that one wing of the Democratic party in this State is leagued with the Republicans to defeat the Silver men. The above indicates that the charge is well founded. The Democratic faction referred to seemingly looks upon the gold men as friends and regard the silver men as enemies.

The Mining and Scientific Press says: Electricity is as old as life, as mysterious as death and as everlasting as eternity. It is as bright as the stars of heaven; it is as silent as the graves of men. It is as powerful as fate, as subtle as sympathy, as swift as thought and it is developing as rapidly as belief in the necessity of retention of the Philippines.

The railway systems of this country which is practically the outgrowth of a generation, is simply gigantic. According to recent statistics there are now in use 36,000 locomotives, 26,000 passenger cars and 9,000 mail and baggage cars. These figures seem large until the number of freight cars is stated, which is 1,250,000.

Governor Sadler has appointed T. E. Mack of Lyon county, Private Secretary.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

The Indian uprising in Minnesota shows little abatement so far. The Indians are well posted on the general situation and very ugly. They are displeased with General Bacon's ultimatum in which he threatens to chastise them unless they come in and surrender. Orders have been sent to the Department of the Lakes for more troops. Citizens at St. Paul say the reds have been badly treated by the whites and the present trouble is the result of years of dissatisfaction.

Semi-official information gives out that the work of the American and Spanish Peace Commission is not progressing satisfactorily. The principal differences so far is the adjustment of the Philippine question and upon which the representatives of the two countries are at entire variance and they have referred the matter to their respective governments.

Chief Lees of San Francisco is now in possession of a warrant for the extradition of Mrs. Botkin. Her attorneys applied for a writ of habeas corpus, but Judge DeHaven refused to grant it, referring the attorneys to the United States Court of Appeals.

The American Commissioners have notified the Spanish authorities at Havana that the United States will assume control, military and government, of the island of Cuba on December 1st and of Porto Rico on October 18th.

Damaging evidence has been secured against Mrs. George, charged with murdering Saxton at Canton, Ohio. It is said that she purchased a 38 calibre pistol and remarked she expected to use it to kill Saxton.

Colonel Ray, the American Commander and troops, seen the Spanish Commander at Manzanillo off for Spain and then marched to the public square of the city and hoisted the Stars and Stripes. They then proceeded to the Custom House and Post office and performed the same ceremony.

The War investigating Committee devoted yesterday forenoon to the statement of Secretary Alger. His report gave special prominence to the plan of the campaign and why Tampa had been selected as a rendezvous owing to its proximity to Havana. His report also explained the delay in getting the expeditions off. General Miles had advised in the first place that the first move should be made on Porto Rico and after this was underway, the plans were changed to concentrate the troops near the north coast of Cuba.

When Umbrellas Were First Used.

The introduction of the umbrella in some places has been regarded of sufficient importance to be included in the local annals. About 1780 a red Leghorn umbrella was introduced into Bristol, and it created quite a sensation in the city. It was about the same period that an umbrella was first carried in the streets of Stamford, Lincolnshire. It was of Chinese manufacture and was brought to Stamford from Glasgow. Mrs. Stockdale, in 1776, is recorded to have brought from the island of Granada, in the West Indies, the first umbrella seen in Cartmel, Lancashire.

In 1779 Dr. Spens, a popular physician, carried an umbrella in the streets of Edinburgh, and he is credited with introducing it into the Scottish capital. John Jamieson, a Glasgow surgeon, visited Paris about 1781 or 1782 and brought back with him an umbrella, which was the first seen in Glasgow, where it attracted unusual attention. William Symington was the first person to carry an umbrella in Paisley.

It is related by Horace Walpole in his account of the punishment of Dr. Shebberre for libel, Dec. 5, 1758, that when he was in the pillory a footman held over him an umbrella to keep off the rain. This has been described as an aristocratic style of bearing punishment. The undersheriff got into trouble for permitting the indulgence.—Fireside.

Caught In His Own Trap.

It is always pleasant to read of instances in which would be practical jokers have had a chance to sample their own wares. In "Life In California," Alfred Robinson tells of a Sonor Lugo, who often amused the travelers by his stories and eccentricities, and one evening attempted a practical joke, with the following result:

He had loaded a paper cigar with gunpowder and placed it among his cigars. During his visit with me he repeatedly asked me to smoke, but I fortunately missed the cigar he had prepared, until finally, from the lateness of the hour, he withdrew.

In the course of the night he awoke, and feeling a desire to smoke selected from his bundle, quite forgetful of the evening's amusement, the very cigar he had prepared for me. Having lighted it, he returned to bed. The cigar was about half consumed and he more than half asleep when a sudden explosion carried away the better part of his mustache, and so thoroughly frightened his poor wife that I venture to say the event will never be forgotten.

JAMES MORRIS,

Regular Democratic nominee for 'STATE PRINTER.

Embraced by a Devil Fish.

A diver engaged in Moynie river in Australia had a terrible experience with a sea devil. Having fired off a charge of dynamite and displaced a large quantity of stones he went to the bottom of the river and while engaged in rolling over a large stone he saw something moving about in front of him. This object quickly came in contact with him and coiled about his arm. The diver walked slowly and painfully along with the sea devil's feelers twined about his body and legs. He made tracks for the ladder and gained the boat, a curious looking object indeed, with this huge ugly thing entangled about his body. With the help of the sailors he was in time freed from his submarine companion. The body of the octopus was only about the size of a large soup plate, with eyes like a sheep's, but it possessed nine arms, each four feet in length, at the butt as thick as a man's wrist and tapering off at the end like a penknife. All along the under part of the feelers of this strange sea creature are suckers every quarter of an inch, giving it immense power.

A Policeman.

The Golden Penny tells an amusing story—some readers may think it improbable—concerning the examination of a young man who desired to be appointed a member of the Hampshire county (England) police.

He put in an appearance one morning, accompanied by his mother and was taken in hand for examination by the inspector. This progressed satisfactorily until the inspector observed:

"Of course you're aware you'll have a lot of night work to do? You are not afraid of being out late, I suppose?"

Before the candidate could reply his mother electrified the amazed official with the statement:

"That'll be all right, sir. His grandmother's going round with him the first two or three nights until he gets used to it!"

Matrimonial Exports.

In the early days of Virginia, when the adventurers were mostly unmarried men, it was deemed necessary to export such women as could be prevailed upon to leave England as wives for the planters. A letter accompanying one of the matrimonial ships, dated London, Aug. 12, 1621, says:

"We send you in the ship a widow and 11 maids as wives for the people of Virginia. There hath been especial care taken in the choice of them, for there hath not one of them been received but upon good recommendations. There are 50 more that are ready to go. For the reimbursing of charges it is ordered that every man that marries them give 100 pounds of best leaf tobacco for each of them."

The British Empire.

At the present moment the British empire is 58 times the size of France, 52 times that of Germany, 3½ times that of the United States of America, thrice the size of Europe, with treble the population of all the Russia. It extends over 11,000,000 square miles, occupies one-fifth of the globe, contains one-fifth of the human race, or 850,000,000 people, embraces four continents, 10,000 islands, 500 promontories and 2,000 rivers.

Almost Ready to Quit.

When the dog licenses were collected by the collector of queen's taxes a few years ago, a Sussex farmer was written to to pay, and among other charges was one for a dog. He wrote back, "Now, Mr. Brown, I've paid this tax for two years and have not had a dog, and I pay it this time, but if you don't find me a dog at once I will not pay it again."—London Telegraph.

THE MINERS' UNION ENDORSEMENT.

What the Secretary of the Miners' Union Says on the Subject—McMillan and Tarrittin Representing a Party "Diametrically Opposed to the Best Interests of the State."

Following is an open letter which recently appeared in the Virginia Chronicle from the Secretary of the Miners' Union which the people of Nevada should read:

To the Editor of the Chronicle—DEAR Sir: In reply to a number of comments made in regard to my name being signed to the indorsement of the Virginia City Miners' Union relative to the candidacy of Mr. McMillan and Mr. Tarrittin, Republican nominees respectively for the offices of Governor and State Controller of Nevada, I wish to say for the information of all parties concerned that I am not personally identified in the smallest degree with the resolution in question, and my name appears signed to that document only in my official capacity as the recorder of the acts of the Union. At the same time I have no unfavorable criticism to make on the motives which prompted the Union in its action in the premises.

The public may rest assured that such action was determined after calm and mature consideration and for good and valid reasons. In the years which have gone down the dim vistas of the past, those gentlemen had proved themselves the unflinching friends of organized labor, and the Virginia City Miners' Union always true to itself, never forgets a friendly act on the part of a friend no matter how remote the time may be when that act may have taken place.

The only objection I have to those candidates is that they have entered the political arena of the "goldbug party," which is diametrically opposed to the paramount interests of our State and Nation, namely, the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver. For that reason I am compelled to oppose their candidacy for the offices sought, and will use my best, though humble efforts, for the success of their opponents in the Silver Party of Nevada, namely, Reinhold Sadler and Samuel P. Davis, who stand their peers in every sense of the term as the true and unmistakable friends of the Miners' Unions and all organized labor in our State.

When silver is remonetized, as it assuredly will be, the silver mines of Nevada will give permanent employment to at least ten thousand miners. Then I would ask the question: Are the miners of Nevada so derelict of their dignity and duty as citizens as to give their support to men on a goldbug ticket in preference to those brave and fearless citizens on the Silver ticket who are standing shoulder to shoulder with those world renowned champions of free silver, Senators John P. Jones, Wm. M. Stewart and Congressman F. G. Newlands, who are fighting the battle of the giants in our national halls of legislation for the rehabilitation of silver to its proper standard as a money metal?

The miners of Nevada know full well that with free silver permanent work and a show to live well and prosper is guaranteed and their support will naturally go to the Silver Party.

The Miners' Union has simply indorsed the personality and not the politics of Republican nominees for Governor and State Controller.

With this brief explanation and asking your pardon for encroaching so much on your space, I am
Yours Very Truly,
JOHN F. McDONNELL.

Captain Hamilton Heard From.

Captain, formerly Lieutenant, Hamilton of the State University, has written a letter to Miss Hepburn Michael of this city from Fort Totten, Willot's Point, N. Y., where he is now stationed. Captain Hamilton writes that he has passed through many changes since leaving Reno. First he was stationed at Fort Hamilton, then ordered to Fort Slocum and later to Fort Totten where he was placed in charge of that most important fortification approaching New York. Subsequently he was ordered to Tampa, Florida, where he was equipped with a self battery and ordered to Santiago, but the orders were countermanded and his battery was ordered to Porto Rico and they were loaded on transports, ready to go, when they were again stopped and sent back to Fort Totten. His last orders were received on September 27 to move his battery to Fort Schuyler, New York Harbor where he will likely remain. Lieutenant Hubbard is in Captain Hamilton's regiment and stationed near him. His elder son Stanley is at West Point and is doing well, while Charlie is on a school ship and his daughter Grace is at school in Brooklyn.

Aurea Almost Depopulated.

The population of the once flourishing town of Aurea, Esmeralda county, has dwindled to a half dozen residents employed in doing annual holding work on unpatented mining claims and those employed at Diamond's cyanide plant. There are vast resources of ore in that district that will be worked at some future time when silver is remonetized. Schultz and Pfeiffer's five-stamp mill, two miles from Aurea is crushing ore from a leased claim.

MEANS MUCH TO CATTLE MEN.

Large Numbers of Cattle Required for Cuba and Porto Rico.

The revival of business in Cuba and Porto Rico means much to cattle men within reach of the Gulf of Mexico ports. The Denver News says D. C. Prior of Fort Worth, who has just returned from a trip to Havana, thinks Cuba alone will take 1,000,000 head of cattle next year. He complains bitterly of the tariff exactions in Havana, the Spanish code being yet in force. In addition to their regular tariffs the Spaniards have a long list of extras, which seem to be adjusted on a basis of what a man will stand. The tariff on cattle is $8 for steers, $6 for calves, $10 for oxen and $8 for heaves, and on top of that is an ad valorem duty and a weight charge, to say nothing of official fees and special items too numerous to mention. The American Commission, as soon as it takes charge of the island, will do away with this system, and will probably abolish the tariff on cattle.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in the most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying Electric Bitters, and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement, I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cts per bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

CURE FOR APPENDICITIS.

Olive Oil Said to be a Sovereign Remedy

Appendicitis occurs very rarely and the percentage of people who eat fruit with seeds in them that are caught, is insignificantly small. When the complaint does seize one it is not necessary to die. The latest and most successful cure is to administer from one to two ounces of sweet oil every three hours until the pain and fever are relieved. The seeds which cause the trouble irritate the muscular tissues so that congestion follows, and this may soon cause inflammation of a very serious character.

Sweet oil administered in time and faithfully, allays the inflammatory condition, reduces temperature, and relaxes the tension of the muscular coating of the intestines and appendix. Besides that it takes seeds and all foreign substances with it, and effects a complete cure. The patient should be kept in bed and poultices should be applied very hot over the seat of the pain.—Yankee Blade.

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Michael Curtin, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement, that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefitted from first dose. She continued its use and after taking six bottles, found herself sound and well; now does her own housework and is as well as she ever was. Free trial bottle of this Great Discovery at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.00.
